THE PRINCIPAL TO THE STUDENT

THE last issue of the Daily reminds us that the session is approaching a close, and that the lighter side of undergraduate life will be less in evidence until the examinations are over. Many of you will be going out into the world to assume the full responsibilities of citizens, to do in earnest the work for which you have been fitting yourselves. To these I would say: Let your work be such as will bring credit upon the name of your University, let the parts you play be such as to make her proud of your career, and may the best of fortune go with you.

Those who will still remain within our walls: I would ask you to remember that they, too, must share in maintaining McGill's good name. The behaviour of our undergraduates, their bearing in their relations with the public, are things by which the University is judged. There are plenty of occasions when the natural spirit of youth takes possession of all of us, but there are bounds to all things. We can sometimes dispense with dignity, but never with decency.

I trust, and I am sure, that wherever you gather, at Theatre Night, at Convocation, when you meet again next fall, you will bear yourselves as befits the undergraduates of McGill.

A. W. CURRIE,

Principal.

FORTUNE IS NEXT ARTS PRESIDENT

Shepherd, McPhail and Duckworth Other New Officials

CLOSE ELECTION

Over Two Hundred and Sixty Students Declare Choice

In the Arts Undergraduates' Society elections held yesterday, R. V. Fortune, W. F. Shepherd and J. C. M. Duckworth were elected to the positions of President, Vice-President, and Secretary respectively. Only two hundred and sixty-seven members cast their ballots, although there were about four hundred entitled to do so. This two-thirds vote is a higher percentage than that of last year, being slightly smaller than was expected.

For the office of President, there were two candidates, E. A. Forsey and R. V. Fortune. The latter had 172 votes to 94 for his opponent. This was the most decisive victory of the elections. W. F. Shepherd, the new Vice-President, polled 155 votes while Graeme Gorrie, his rival, gained 101. J. C. M. Duckworth defeated T. M. Gordon for the Secretaryship by 150 to 107, this being the closest contest of the day. H. McPhail was elected Treasurer by acclamation.

Polling was steady all day, being greatest during the intervals between the morning lectures. The count was started at 5.30, the result being announced by "Bill" Gentleman a few minutes after six. Every year voted well, although the Freshmen were not as well represented as other classes.

The President and the Treasurer are members of the incoming Senior year. Arts '25, the Vice-President is from Arts '26, and the Secretary from next year's sophomore class.

The Arts Undergraduate Society last Thursday changed its constitution so that the various years might be represented on the executive as above. Previously, the Freshman year elected the Society's Secretary, but it has long been felt that the first year men should not hold office during the early part of the session.

ARTS '25 DINNER FRIDAY EVENING

Class Will Afterwards Proceed to the St. Denis

The class of Arts '25 will make merry at a dinner party on Friday night after which they will proceed to the St. Denis Theatre where a block of seats has been reserved for the Red and White Revue. The function will be the last opportunity the members will have before the end of the session for a general get-together, and to enjoy an evening of real entertainment.

The dinner will be held at the Roma Restaurant where a special Italian menu is being prepared. A large number have signified their intention so that, in point of numbers at least, the affair will prove to be the best possible. A moderate price of $1.00 is being charged so that it will be within the limits of every member's pocket to attend.

The dinner will commence at 6.30 p.m. at the Roma, which is located at 67 Osborne St. A few tickets are yet available and may be obtained from C. D. Everett of P. M. Reid. All those who have not paid are requested to do so to-day so the exact number can be ascertained and the preparations completed.

TWO OFFICES TO BE FILLED BY ELECTION

Representative on Athletic Board and Cheer Leader

POLLING TODAY

Voting Will Start at Nine This Morning and End at Six

Two student offices are to be filled today by popular vote, namely, cheer leader and a representative to the Athletic Board. For this purpose the polls in the Union will be open from nine a.m. until six p.m.

Posters have been placed in prominent locations about the campus proclaiming the merits of the men contending for these two positions. The ability of each contestant to fulfill the duties connected with the offices is indisputable. It remains for each student to make what choice he deems best.

There is a great field for effective work connected with the office of cheer leader. A good deal of enthusiasm essential in athletic contests is dependent upon the capability of the cheer leader. The position of student representative on the Athletic Board also needs the services of the best man available.

"What is the rent of your room, Henry? I suppose they ask a lot for it."

"Yes, all the time."

ANNUAL HAS BEEN OVER SUBSCRIBED

Necessary to Print Additional Volumes

ON SALE SOON

Students Taking Chemistry Will be Obligated to Pay Cash

This year's Annual will appear on the campus no later than a week from next Wednesday while there is a strong possibility of its going on sale before that date. Word as to the exact date of its appearance will be given by means of posters, and through presidents of the various classes.

The original number of volumes has been considerably over-subscribed and it has been found necessary to publish an additional number. This has tended to delay the date of publication.

All men in Arts who take Chemistry and all second and third year taking Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering will have to pay cash for the Annual. On the date of publication the Annual Board room on the second floor of the Union will be open from twelve noon on, and all subscribers may obtain their copies by presenting the twenty-five cent government tax. Chemical students adding the regular price of $3.75. This system is the same as that carried out last year. Matters would be greatly facilitated if all subscribers would come for their volumes as soon as sales open. Any who are uncertain of the whereabouts of the Annual Board room in the Union need only make inquiries of the porter.

All bills must be paid immediately, the editors have declared, and all pictures must be removed from the board room. A list of those pictures still uncalled for is published in today's notice column.

This year's oversubscription augurs well for the success of the sales, and is an indication of the keen interest with which the appearance of "Old McGill" is awaited by the undergraduate body. Proof reading has been carried on for some time and from the proofs already sent up from the printers the Annual this year promises to be of a very high standard.

LECTURE ON "THE RIDDLE OF STARS"

Miss Douglas, M.Sc., to Speak on Astronomical Subject

This evening at 8.15, Miss A. V. Douglas, M.Sc., will give a lecture in the Physics Building on "The Riddle of the Stars."

Although this lecture is given under the auspices of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Montreal Centre, yet all those who are interested are invited to be present.

Miss Douglas after winning the gold medal for Mathematics and Physics at McGill, obtained an I.O. D.E. Scholarship and went to Cambridge where she worked with Sir Ernest Rutherford in the Cavendish Laboratory, and in the following year with the famous English astronomer, Professor Eddington. Miss Douglas has a wide and sound knowledge of her subject and also the further gift of a clear and interesting delivery in a style which few people attain.

"The girl is very kittenish and the son is just a pup!"

"Well, you see their parents have always led a cat-and-dog life!"

MONTREAL, THURSDAY, MARCH 27, 1924.

TO THE FUTURE.

Reminiscences are, at times, truly delightful things to indulge in, and it is often a joy to let our minds travel back through the days which are gone, casting here and there a somewhat wistful gaze at the things that are never to come again. And so it is that in to-day's columns we climb to the top of a mental mountain and take a somewhat hurried look at the panorama which lies below us, a panorama including many of the multifarious activities, which are closely connected with the undergraduate at Old McGill. And as our eyes sweep the western horizon, with its shadows already long, we see here a success, there a failure, here a victory, there a defeat, and emotions rise within us which are a queer mingling of elation and dejection. But though we undergo a complexity of feeling, there is not—and for this thank heaven—even the slightest impression of shame, for throughout the year the name of McGill has been carried high above the dust of reproach and criticism, and though we have experienced disappointments we need have no regrets.

But then again, at times, panoramic recollections are not the best things to gaze upon. Better, it may be, to turn toward the east where the sun of an unborn day is to rise, letting our minds be filled with new hopes. The college year is almost gone. Let it go. But decade upon decade is yet to come, and it is for these that we should plan and work and strive. We do not pretend to be prescient. We do not even belong to the union of necromancers, with their pseudo-powers of divination and augury. But yet we would look to the future, and in doing so, there are a few fond anticipations which are foremost in our mind. The first, and we believe it to be the greatest, is that there will be an ever-increasing intellectual activity among the undergraduates, who have chosen these halls as a temporary home. We do not mean merely a more regular observance of the one-eighth rule, or an increased effort to surpass all former totals of the number of hours studied by students during the seven and a half months of college. But we do mean an increased wandering in those cultural paths, which are outside of the curricula, those trails which lead into pleasant realms of profitable recreation. We would lay particular emphasis upon literature, especially the drama, music, and art. We dream of the day when masterpieces of the immortals and of the moderns will be seen in the halls of the buildings of greater McGill. We see, and this should not be a far distant hour, the purely literary and dramatic organizations rising, like the Phoenix, out of their very dust, and resuming their proper place in university life. We hopefully muse on the time when the present feeble support given to music will swell to undreamt of proportions, carrying the best in this sphere of culture to the place it rightfully deserves. And we pray for ever greater enthusiasm favoring all groups of men who gather together for the purpose of the pursuit of knowledge.

But our thoughts do not end here, for we would see the athletic pendulum swinging this way again, bringing with it championships, especially those on the gridiron and on the ice. The last few months witnessed near successes, but the grade was of an angle slightly too steep, and though the Red and White warriors travelled at top speed toward the end of the schedules, the impetus was not quite great enough to carry them over. But if they start next season at the rate they finished this they should grasp victory from the very start.

And in conclusion we visualize the McGill of the future, a university even greater than the great one of today, a centre of learning to which the young people of Canada will instinctively turn, a group of colleges adequately housed and equipped for the propagation of all branches of true knowledge. McGill is a place where hope can be "as boundless as the sea." But we must not sit with hands clasped in our lap, for only actions can bring about the realization of even our dearest dreams. We, the undergraduates of the present, can play a great part, and we can do no better than to keep before our eyes the motto which is engraved upon the crest of McGill, "Grandescunt aucta labore."

A SIGN OF THE TIME.

Mud, slush, melting ice and hawkers are all indicative of the passing of winter and the arrival of spring. But there is no more pretentious sign of the time than the cessation of the amateur journalistic activities in the basement of the Union. With this issue the "Daily" will cease to appear regularly on the campus, and will be seen only once more this session, when the Convocation number is published toward the end of April. This is a forcible indication of the nearness of the end of the college year, and incidentally, of the final tests. So the cry of the hour is "to work," and, forsaking our chosen recreation, we must be about this peculiar business, the acquiring of that knowledge necessary for successful attacks upon the vernal examinations. But one thing must be done before we bury our editorial nose in a weighty book, and that is to make a farewell salutation before our public. We do not do this willingly, for it is with a certain amount of regret that we leave the typewriter and the copy paper to become begrimed with dust. But glancing through the columns of our college contemporaries, we see that it is quite the proper thing, and being proper ourselves, well, what other course is there?

But we refuse to bid a final farewell, and all we shall say is, "Au revoir." And in doing so there are a few thoughts to utter. Firstly, we know that we have made mistakes and blunders during the past few months, doing things which should not have been done, and leaving undone things which should have been done. But in spite of all, our readers have been exceedingly tolerant in their attitude, and some have been interested enough to utter soft-voiced criticisms in our ear. For this genial reception we are grateful and to all those who have greeted the "Daily" so kindly we would voice our sincere thanks. We have earnestly attempted to be fair, to be honest, to be free from deceit and guile. In the business of news gathering, we have tried to give the various articles their just proportion of space, and though sometimes we have fallen far short of perfection in this respect, our failures have been due to lack of complete knowledge, rather than intentional neglect. It has been our ambition to have this paper take its full and lawful role in university life, and if our efforts have achieved only partial success, we can retire with a good taste of satisfactory content.

The course of the "Daily" has again been run and once more we thank you for all those things which you have done for us along the way. Without your co-operation our road would have been almost impassable, it would have been disappointing, and would have been extremely bitter. But this has not been so, and we are happy. Au revoir!

CONDENSED COMMENT.

The concluding event of McGill's social year is the presentation of the Red and White revue to-morrow and Saturday nights. This promises to be received with open arms by the students, and by the public, and surely the unstinted efforts of the producers and the participants are worthy of nothing but undiluted success. And regarding "law and order," the final dictum was uttered by the Principal, when he said, "We can sometimes dispense with dignity, but never with decency."

You are again reminded of to-day's elections, when candidates for important offices will be chosen. For the last time we ask you to consider the matter carefully, and do not forget to vote.

OUTLINE OF SUMMER TOUR IS PRESENTED

Summary of Proposed European Trip

TO LEAVE JUNE 26TH

Colonel Bovey and Miss Hurlbatt Receiving Applications

Preparations are now being completed for the proposed visit of a large number of undergraduates of the universities of the Dominion to the British Isles and France this summer between June 26th and July 4th. Applications are being made from universities all over Canada. As yet no students in McGill have signed up, but it is hoped that the next few days will see a number of them doing so. The applications for women students are being received by Miss Hurlbatt, while the men will apply through Colonel Bovey.

The following is a summary of the itinerary suggested. It should be understood, however, that this is purely tentative and is subject to considerable change.

June 28th.—Leave Montreal by the Canadian Steamship "Maconema," the entire third class accommodation of which has been specially reserved.

July 4th.—Arrive Glasgow.

FIRST WEEK: The party will be accommodated in Hostels of the University of Edinburgh, with the exception of about 50 for whom private hospitality has been accepted.

The programme for Scotland will include visits to the Trossachs, to Stirling and Dunfermline and the Scott country, in addition to the usual places of interest in Edinburgh.

SECOND WEEK: This week will include a visit to Birmingham from which centre a day will be spent at Stratford-on-Avon. It is probable that the remainder of the week will be spent at York, but this is still uncertain.

THIRD WEEK: Oxford, including visits to Kenilworth and Warwick.

FOURTH WEEK: LONDON. Members will be accommodated in Westminster College and in King's College Hostel (both within two minutes walk of Westminster Abbey). In addition to visits to the British Empire Exhibition and to the historic centres of London, the programme will include Canterbury, the Gray country, Kew Gardens, Hampton Court, Windsor and Eton.

SPECIAL NOTE: As is generally known, on account of the British Empire Exhibition, London will be more than usually full this year. Special arrangements are being made therefore, for the party to visit the principal places of interest in small groups, provision being made for such groups to be accompanied by guides wherever possible.

SIXTH WEEK: France. The party will be accommodated in Hostels situated in the heart of Paris, for which city the usual sight-seeing programme will be arranged. In addition visits will be made to Soissons, Versailles and Fontainebleau.

August 16th.—Leave Southampton by the Canadian Pacific Steamship "Empress of Scotland" for which special arrangements have been made to secure a comfortable voyage home.

August 23rd.—Arrive at Quebec.

SPECIAL NOTES

1. The above programme as already noted is subject to very considerable change, and is intended merely as an indication of the itinerary it is proposed to follow. It will be extended wherever possible and made as comprehensive as time and circumstances will permit.

2. Transportation facilities and hotel accommodations in Great Britain generally, and in London in particular, are this Summer being taxed to an extent hitherto unknown, and the difficulties of organizing a tour of the extensive proposed tour this Summer are very considerable. It will not be possible, therefore, to issue a detailed programme, for several weeks, probably not before the middle of May.

3. It is understood that the proposed Tour is available to Undergraduates of recognized Universities, Affiliated Colleges and Provincial Normal Schools. Exceptions will be made in the case of a limited number of graduates of not more than two years standing.

The Party will be accompanied by a doctor and several members of the faculties of different Universities who have volunteered their services.

4. Applications can be accepted for transportation only, such applicants being privileged to avail themselves of any part of the programme desired. Canadian rail and steamship tickets are available for return any time within one year.

5. Cost of Transportation—Montreal to Glasgow and Southampton to Montreal $165.00.

Special rail coaches will be run from certain centres, notice regarding which arrangements will be issued at a little later date. All tickets are held at Headquarters throughout, a card being issued to indicate membership.

SPEAKERS OF GREAT NOTE WERE HERE

Canadian Club Heard Good Addresses

REVIEW OF WORK

Resolved to Support the League of Nations

During the session drawing to a close the McGill Canadian Club listened to several addresses from speakers of considerable note. The first lecture of the season was Mr. Rose the first Rhodes scholar from the province of Manitoba, who at the time of his address had just returned from a prolonged visit to Central Europe. He gave a very informative talk on conditions in Europe, dwelling at considerable length on Poland where he had spent some time.

Later in the year a joint meeting was held with the Literary and Debating Society and the Delta Sigma Society. Mr. Bieler, a graduate of McGill in the faculties of Arts and Law, who is connected with one of the secretariats of the League of Nations outlined the work and purpose of that body to a large audience. On completion of his address a discussion was started on the subject and a vote taken among the audience, showed that the McGill undergraduates were willing to give their moral support to the league.

Dr. Ami, the well-known archaeologist and Dr. Grenfell a missionary in Labrador and the author of many works on anthropological investigation, also addressed the club.

Toward the end of the session R. L. Calder K. C., senior crown prosecutor, spoke on "Political Sincerity." During the course of his talk he mentioned several things that go to make up an honest politician. He regretted very much that so many covered politics for personal gain.

Rev. Paddicombe Law '16 was president of the club for the session Cecil Teakle was vice-president and Campbell Cope secretary treasurer.

REVUE OF THE RED AND WHITE RUGBY SEASON

McGill University has at times turned out some great teams and scored to victory over her two old competitors, Queens and Varsity. But, as saying goes, "Every dog has his day," and for the past several years the teams of McGill have gone down to defeat by one or other of her ancient rivals. The season about to be described showed the best results that the Red and White have had for some time. At the end of the season, counting all games played, whether intercollegiate or exhibition, there were three losses and three wins, and although they lost in the intercollegiate race they beat two of the best teams in the Big Four besides winning from Varsity on her own field.

The first requirement for a respectable rugby team is good players and the second is the training those players receive. In the matter of experience the McGill players were far behind those of Queens and Varsity, both these teams having had an abundance of men who had spent one or more years in the senior series. But the players of McGill had one admitted advantage in their coach, who is recognized in both the United States and Canada as one of the best in his profession. Although this advantage was a great asset to the University it was not enough to offset the lack of experience and the casualties that arose in the McGill ranks.

The coach, Mr. Frank Shaughnessy, to get an early start, took the most promising of the players who were left over from the previous year's team, on a camping trip in the Laurentians, where they were put through a very rigorous training to better their condition. For two weeks eleven of these men worked hard at canoeing and porfaging besides indulging in light runs. The result of this training was that they came back with all the waste matter cleared out of their systems and prepared to show the recruits the way to road hard work at the McGill Stadium.

Another feature of the training was that the men were installed in the Field House at the Stadium where they were under the constant supervision of their captain and the coaches. Rules were laid down in regard to hours and eating. The men were required to be in the training quarters by nine-thirty, and to retire before ten. Also the members of the squad were required to eat at the McGill Union where specially prepared meals were served to them. These meals were plain but wholesome. The men were allowed to eat as much as they liked, but all parties and rich puddings were forbidden. After the evening meal the players were given a "chalk-talk" by the coach. The mistakes of the day were pointed out and corrected. Also new tactics were discussed and certain talks given that were both amusing and encouraging. The coach thought that the spirit needed its food as well as the body, and supplied it with considerable success. This, added to his duties on the field, made his work anything but light. Every morning at seven o'clock the players went on the field for a half-hour jaunt before breakfast. At three o'clock in the afternoon they turned out for the heavy work of the day, and, under the supervision of Mr. Shaughnessy, rehearsed the plays until they knew them almost perfectly. After the lengthy signal practice the seniors would be sent against the intermediates and a hard scrimmage would take place.

This all goes to prove that everything was done that could be done in the way of conditioning the men and offsetting the grievous lack in experience of the many new players.

The first three games of the season bore out the prophecies of the rugby critics and the Red and White went down to defeat, owing mainly to inexperience and lack of confidence, a condition that is naturally expected in men playing their first game. The turning point was the win against the Hamilton Tigers.

This win, coming at the end of a heart-breaking battle, seemed to act like a tonic on the team, which was beginning to look for defeat as its lot. It changed the whole morale of the squad and it turned out to practice with renewed vim. Conscious of their previously unassisted strength they inflicted a heavy defeat on Varsity on the latter's own field, and on the following Monday returned to Montreal to whip the M.A.A.A. squad. During that week leading sport writers all over Canada paid tribute to the McGill team and especially to the coach, whose prestige in some circles was on the wane.

But this record of the McGill Rugby team is of interest in another way. It shows the indispensible place of psychology in athletics. The Queen's players were the Dominion champions of the year before, and coming out confident that they were going to win—they won. The record of the McGill team was the very reverse of that of Queen's, not having won a single contest the previous season. What they needed was a victory to bring the confidence that is necessary for a winning team. The game with Hamilton had the effect that the coach desired and forerame, and the team won its remaining games. Next year there will be many men on the team with that confidence which they lacked in the previous season, and confidence, when it has not become over-confidence.

Space will not permit an extended account of the activities of the Intermediate and Junior teams but they had a very strenuous season and the head coach spent considerable time in perfecting their weaknesses as they arose. In the two intercollegiate games that the former participated in with R.M.C. they were defeated but in losing they gave place to the team which was ultimately to win the Intermediate Championship. The Junior squad lost to Loyola after two very close and hotly contested games but in fighting spirit and in playing ability they were not far from the standard set by the other two McGill teams. These two teams are to a large extent responsible for the great showing made by the heavier squad and the players on the seniors derived a great benefit from the friendly competition which they supplied at the Stadium.

BRITISH RUGBY PROSPECTS GOOD

Likely to Retain Possession of McTier Cup

The English Rugby Club enjoyed a fair measure of success, but hope to excel its record during 1924-25. The chances are very favourable, as increased interest in the game is being shown. This interest has been greatly stimulated by the fine performance of the McGill teams in securing the handsome McTier trophy, emblematic of the championship of Eastern Canada. Last November McGill won it from the Montreal Athletic team in a triumphant victory of 15 to 0. A previous game had ended in a draw 6 to 6. McGill played six games in all and lost only once—this was the first of a double-header with Varsity.

Games have already been arranged with Varsity for next year. There will probably be a play-off with the champion Maritime team at Halifax during the Thanksgiving week end year.

Next season's program will start a week before the beginning of lectures in Arts—the fourth week of September, when the work-outs will begin. From then they will be held every afternoon. The use of the old campus has been obtained.

A three-team local league will be formed with the following teams: Maritimers, Westerners, and "Rest of Empire." From these squads will be chosen two fifteens to represent McGill in outside battles. Owing to the fact that many of the present team will be graduating, there will be plenty of room for new men.

The officers for the coming season are as follows:

ANNUAL MEETING OF WESTERN CLUB

Smoker at the Union on Friday, April 4th

The Western Club will hold its last meeting of the year on Friday, April 4th, at the Union at 8 p.m. Sir Arthur Currie, the honorary president of the Club, has kindly consented to be present. Some of the prominent C.P.R. men who will be in town in connection with the convention will be asked to be present at the meeting. Mr. J. J. Warren, president of the Canadian Consolidated Smelters, will be in town and will be present.

Election of officers for the coming year will also be held. These are president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. The executive recently discussed the advisability of holding over the election of faculty representatives till the fall.

An orchestra will be in attendance, and there will be plenty of smokes. A hearty invitation is extended to all westerners to attend the meeting. Further details will be given on the notice boards of the different faculties.

ANTIQUITIES NOW SHOWN IN LIBRARY

Lamps of Great Age in Perfect Condition

VARIED EXHIBIT

Examples of Persian and Indian Paintings, and of Hebrew Scrolls

An exhibition of objects found at Ain Shams and presented by the Palestine Museum, a collection of articles from Egyptian tombs, over a dozen examples of Persian and Indian painting and several Hebrew scrolls and manuscripts are now on view in the gallery of the Redpath Library for the purpose of comparison. There are some exceptionally ancient vases, lamps, and domestic vessels dating from hundreds of years before Christ a medallion portrait of the goddess Astarte the Venus of the Babylonians, a pottery vase which has an estimated age of six thousand years, curious dishes cut from alabaster, and various other rare treasures shown in the six cases of the exhibition.

In the first case, portions from the Egyptian "Book of the Dead," dating from the thirteenth century, a collection of plaster casts made from the originals in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York City, an Ushabti of the Eighteenth Dynasty, and a cylinder of Nebuchadnezzar II. with an English translation, are exhibited. Amongst these genuine articles are placed several clever forgeries, which would deceive all but the trained eye.

A Hebrew Roll of the Book of Esther, written in ancient Hebrew on a pinefoot parchment of goatskins, is the principal exhibit in the second case. A reproduction of an ancient Hebrew writing case, and the Puel-stitch, or scroll of the Five Books of Moses, a roll nearly ninety-four feet in length, are also on view, as are three Græco-Egyptian variations of the "stytus."

The contents of these two cases have been procured and arranged by Dr. G. R. Lomer.

A wonderful collection of a dozen well-preserved lamps, black with oil, burned about four thousand years ago, are noteworthy among various Palestinian jugs, bowls, saucers, bottles, decanters and pyxis. These are in a third section, which will not be completed for several days.

Large dishes cut from alabaster, a clay drinking vase, a model of a Nile sailing boat in the form of a lotus, and an alabaster "Table of Offerings" with a separate pedestal, are objects of great interest in the case devoted to Egyptian antiquities. Every kind, shape and quality of vases, bowls, dishes, painted jars and bottles are included in this collection, which is being formed by the Theological Colleges. Woman's ornaments, such as bracelet and necklaces, seem to have been as popular long ago as they are today.

In Persia and in India, a great interest in the arts, due to the encouragement of the aristocracy arose in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. Examples of the paintings, miniatures, manuscripts, noted for the richness of their illustrations and the beauty of their calligraphy, and ornamented volumes complete the collection.

PROVINCIAL TRACK MEET THIS EVENING

McGill Has Twenty Representatives

MANY ENTRANTS

Olympic Committee Will Attend to Watch for Champion Material

The Provincial Indoor Track Meet will be held in Drill Hall on Craig Street, tonight at 8.15. There is plenty of room in the spacious armory, and a large crowd can be accommodated. The price of admission is fifty-five cents.

There are eighty-two men signed up for the open event, and with the five additional high schools there will be approximately a hundred and ten entrants altogether. This is the first indoor meet held in Montreal for years, and the enthusiasm taken in it, as well as the large numbers to take part, promises well for the success of the meet.

Besides McGill, the following clubs are participating to-night: Nationale Amateur Athletic Association; Montreal Amateur Athletic Association; Canadian Pacific Railway Amateur Athletic Association; North Branch Y. M. C. A. Amateur Athletic Association; Westmount Y. M. C. A.; Université de Montreal; Melrose Athletic Club; Montreal High School; Baron Byng High School; and the Catholic High School.

Coach Van Wagner has chosen twenty representatives from a large crowd of sportsmen, who have turned out in large numbers, despite the proximity of the final examinations. From these men Patterson, Pierce, Rubin, Darling, and Jardine are well-known about the campus because of their having represented McGill on the intercollegiate track team and having carried off the honors at the intercollegiate meet.

Several high schools, as well as the Université de Montreal, have entered for the first time. Another interesting point is the entrance of a Chinese student—the first of his race to enter this phase of athletics. Particularly important is the fact that in all probability the Canadian Olympic Team Selection Committee will have representatives present to-night to be on the look-out for promising candidates for Canada's army of athletes to be sent to the Olympic Games.

The following are the McGill entries.

E. R. Alexander, 800 yards; R. G. Beck, 60 yards; M. Brodie, 2 miles; T. C. Darling, Hurdles; G. Davidson, 60 yards, 300 yards, Relay; W. R. Dunston, 60 yards; W. S. Dyre, High Jump; C. A. Grimeson, 4 miles; E. Hanna, 60 yards, 300 yards, Relay; W. H. Gavigo, 60 yards; J. W. Jardine, Shot put; J. W. Kerr, 60 yards, 300 yards, Relay; O. MacDonald, 60 yards, 600 yards, Relay; P. P. Michael, 60 yards, 300 yards, Relay; S. D. Pierce, Hurdles, Broad Jump; T. R. Theobalds, Shot put; N. W. Rubin, 1000 yards, 2 miles; A. D. Starke, Shot put, Broad Jump; W. A. Warren, 300 yards.

The complete programme is as follows:

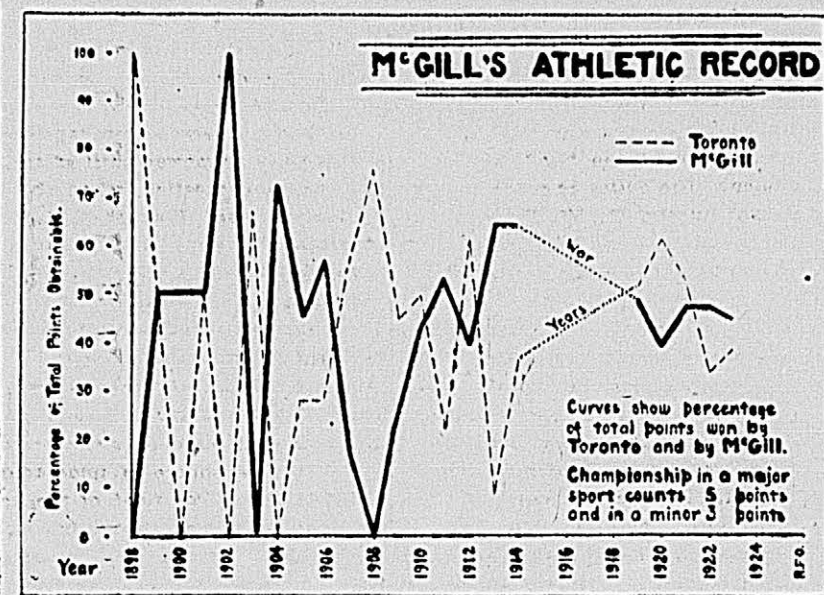

- (1) 60 yards dash—Heat 1 (two to qualify): W. Fuller, R. G. Beck, H. Husband, P. P. Michael, J. Mendelman, W. Jeffries, M. Gendron. Heat 2: A. E. Laploek, J. N. McKeechneay, E. R. Hanna, W. H. McGILL'S ATHLETIC RECORD

McGill has won more athletic championships than both Queen's and Toronto combined in the senior intercollegiate competitions. In the past twenty-six years one hundred and forty-five championships have been distributed among the intercollegiate big three—Varsity, Queen's and McGill. Of these, McGill has had the good fortune to capture just more than half—seventy-three, exactly. That is a worth-while record.

In the major sports, Toronto has won twenty-eight first places, Queen's nine, and McGill twenty-two. There the Blue and White has had a clean cut lead. However, in the minor competitions McGill has won a long series of victories, totalling fifty-one, while Toronto has secured thirty-one and Queen's four.

A graph has been plotted showing strikingly the yearly fluctuations in the winnings of Toronto and McGill.

Giving a major sport a value of five points, and allowing a minor just a little over half of that, three points to wit, the relative accomplishments of the two universities may be compared. As the number of competitions increases almost every year a direct plotting of the points for the various activities would give a steadily rising curve. However, the points won by each university may be expressed as a percentage of the total points available in any one year. This has been done. For instance, this year Toronto won four minor championships, hurdles, B. W. & F., English rugby and the gymnasium display, and one major title, hockey, totalling seventeen points. Queen's won rugby football and basketball, gaining eight points. McGill won one major, track, and five minors, golf, swimming, water polo, tennis and shooting, for twenty points. There were forty-five points offered of which McGill won forty-four (97 per cent) and Toronto thirty-eight. The eighteen percent won by Queen's has not been shown on the chart, and for the same reason there are several places in the diagram where the total points indicated will not add up to one hundred percent. In general the Queen's curve ran quite low and was omitted.

The astonishingly large fluctuations up until 1909 are due to the very few sports included in intercollegiate athletics during those early years. During the 1909-1910 session swimming and water polo, tennis and hurdles, and the B. W. & F. matches were inaugurated. These five minor sports served to stabilize the relative winnings. When McGill won everything in 1902, there were only three competitions, all majors, track, rugby and hockey. In 1908, the Red and White won nothing at all. As a matter of fact the decrease in athletic prowess began in 1905, and three years later McGill was out entirely. From 1908 to 1914 the climb was steady with the exception of one year; and in that first war year, McGill attained real athletic greatness when victory was gained in six minor

McGILL'S ATHLETIC RECORD

The war years suspended all athletics. After the war Toronto gained and McGill lost, but for the past two years the Red and White has led again. That may seem remarkable as these two outstanding events, rugby and hockey, have not been won by McGill. The public is prone to follow these two major sports rather to the exclusion of all others. On the graph, the seasons or seasons have been plotted under the date of the autumn months. That is to say 1911 refers to the 1911-1912 season at college.

The war years suspended all athletics. After the war Toronto gained and McGill lost, but for the past two years the Red and White has led again. THE IMPERIAL Theatre-goers who have seen and admired Miss Louise Lovely's work on the silver sheet have the pleasure of seeing the little blonde star in a one act comedy at the Imperial Theatre this week. In delightful skit entitled "A Day at the Studio" Miss Lovely demonstrates that acting is not quite as easy as it appears proves her point by inviting amateurs from the audience to interpret different roles. Blinking before an array of Kleig lights the aspirants to movie fame do some dramatic scenes in a manner that keeps the audience in roars of laughter. Miss Lovely shows herself a delightful comedienne and is assisted in the comedy-making by Mr. Welch and English comedian with quit a good sense of humour. However the would-be actors are the funniest of all.

Although overshadowed by Miss Lovely's personality the other vaudeville actors present fine acts which are very entertaining. They are variable and the program ranges from low comedy to a clever dancing act with an xylophone player and his snappy partner also contributing some delightful patter. Comedy abounds in the feature picture when Jonny Hines plays the role of an Irish lad who makes his fortune in America. As "Conductor 1492" he performs some thrilling rescues and between gasps keeps the audience in laughter with his imitable antics. The Pathé weekly completes a very entertaining bill.

MACCABAEANS TO ELECT OFFICERS

Meeting to be Held in Union Sunday

On Sunday afternoon, at the Union, the final meeting of the Maccabean Circle for the session will be held. The reports of the various committees, and of the chairman, the treasurer and the secretary of the retiring executive will be read. The election of officers for the ensuing year will take place. These are: President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Recording and Corresponding Secretaries, and two members without portfolio. Two members of the executive will also be elected from the B.V.C. Only paid-up members will be entitled to vote.

All indications point to the annual banquet to be held at the Mount Royal on Thursday April 1st, at 7 p.m., being a brilliant success. The toast list is long enough not to be boring; the speaker of the evening is a journalist and writer of some repute, and the guests include Dr. Walter, E. C. Amaron, representatives from the S.C.A., and the Columbian Club, and Fr. A. J. Freeman, President of the Canadian Zionist Organization. Aspler's orchestra will see to it that the dancing afterwards will be enjoyable.

The Maccabean Circle has been fortunate in having a scholarship for the intercollegiate Memorial Summer School donated by Mr. A. J. Freeman of Ottawa. It is sincerely hoped that many undergraduates will take opportunity of this and hand in their applications to Mr. S. Mirsky, B.Sc., 69 University St.

FENCERS GOOD

McGill Wrestlers Make Better Showing This Season

The season opened for the B. W. & F. Club in the second week of October with a general meeting at which several executive positions were filled and the coaches and practice hours and places announced. At the opening practices of the three branches of the club there was some remarkable material on hand, both in quality and quantity, and big things were prophesied for the year.

The boxers in Molson Hall were safely situated for the term, but the wrestlers had to vacate the Union for the field house, and later left this to take up more spacious quarters at Strathcona Hall.

The activities of the club have been confined to college and intercollegiate meets almost entirely. There have been: the interfaculty, which Medicine won; the college championships, and the intercollegiate meet, which was entirely a "Union" affair. Though the Red and White did not succeed in holding the intercollegiate title for a second term, no apologising need be made for them, everyone gave all he had when the time necessitated doing so.

The following is a more detailed note on the three branches of the club:

Wrestling.
Although many of this year's team will graduate, many will remain, and these together with the many newcomers who have weathered this year's storm should present a very strong line-up for the coming year. George Rumble, the only heavyweight to throw his opponent twice in 23 seconds, is leaving McGill this year. He has been twice intercollegiate and twice provincial champion and is now out for the Dominion. Copple will try to fill Rumble's position next year.

Ernie Freedman, the light-heavy, though not wearing as many medals as Rumble, is a consistent and effective man. This is his second year as intercollegiate champion. McNaughton, who is next year's captain, and Fisher, who will be the new assistant manager, Phelps, Greenburg, McEvoy, Silver—all of these will be a great asset to the team next fall.

Fencing.
The fencers have won the intercollegiate fencing championship, which had not been McGill's fortune before. The Fencing Club has this year grown week by week to a membership at present of between fifty and sixty paid members. Under the coaching of Monsieur Ramond, some very able fencers are being produced. This year's intercollegiate team was composed of Silverstone and Crestohl, both Ramond's proteges, and they, by their recent showing, have been a credit to their instructor.

Fencing seems to be growing in popularity, and with so large and enthusiastic a membership, a good fencing team at McGill is guaranteed for many years to come.

Boxing.
In the boxing, though winning but two intercollegiate titles, McGill had a very successful year. The men, who turned out regularly, though not in great numbers as of past years, had the right spirit. There were fewer meets held this year than during the previous one, but no one will deny that every match staged was a battle from going to going.

In the interfaculty tournament, held before Christmas, several new men of great promise were brought out, most notably among whom were Brain and McLean. In the bantam and heavy-weight divisions. These two made the college team, and showed in their first real test against outside men, that they had great ability. Brain, in particular, who fractured his thumb in the first round of his bout with Hubbard, of Toronto, in the intercollegiate, showed outstanding pluck in staying the three rounds, and only losing by a narrow margin.

On the Canadian intercollegiate team, which went to compete at the Annapolis Naval College, Maryland, McGill had only one representative, Vernon Snow, in the 135 pound class. Though unsuccessful, he made the navy man extend himself to the utmost to obtain the decision.

The boxers were trained by Coach Robinson. This is his third year at McGill, all three of which have been successful. He is well liked by all the men, and has shown himself to be one of the ablest of instructors, turning out from raw material, many finished boxers.

Well, maybe you do, but I doubt it.

of a second less time than any man had previously done in an intercollegiate track meet. The Canadian record for the pole vault was broken by Francis, of Varsity, who is reputed to be the best pole vaulter ever

During the past few weeks there has been the usual spring revival of interest in track circles, and to-night about twenty McGill men will take part in the Provincial Indoor Track meet, which is the first of a series of eliminations to determine the personnel of the Canadian Olympic team. And it is quite within the realm of possibility that McGill should be represented on this Team either by some undergraduate or by a few men who have already left the college.

While the aims of the Club have been far from realized, a great step has been taken and a good foundation laid on which to build the future progress of the Club.

At the present time the club is being sponsored by the well-known Machine Rowing Club who offered the use of their equipment and experience on condition that McGill should row under their colours for at least one year. Through these facilities the student members have been able to practice on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 5 o'clock every week at the M. A. A. Club-house on Peel st. They have not only en-

IMPROMPTU SPEAKING
A cup has been donated to the Society by Mrs. R. R. Reford for Impromptu speaking. It is known as the Talbot Papineau Memorial Cup, and is competed for annually. Eighteen men entered the contest this year, which was held on March the 13th. A. N. James was declared to be the best speaker. James spoke on the necessity of restricting immigration into Canada. One year previously, Eugene Forsey, speaking in exactly the same topic, was also awarded the cup.

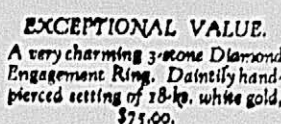

Rowing has already found a place at the University of Toronto and the students there will no doubt be glad to learn of its successful introduction at McGill. If the Toronto club is as enthusiastic as that of McGill, intercollegiate races will become a regular event in the near future. Through such competition oarsmen hope that rowing will come to hold the place in Canadian Universities that it holds at Oxford and Cambridge and at the great Universities of the United States.

More than 100 red haired students, faculty members and out of town guests, attended the 1924 competition of the Golden Fleece which was held recently at the University of Nebraska. At a luncheon given by the Golden Fleece, prizes were awarded to the woman having the reddest hair, the most fascinating bob, the most intoxicating golden glow, the most attractive freckles, the most fascinating green eyes, or the most devilish dark eyes, etc.

A THREE ORCHESTRA REVUE FEATURE OF THEATRE NIGHT

Adney's, Cloutier's and Crocker's Orchestras in Jazz Revue
Seven Acts by Faculties and One Specialty Act
Willard Crocker's New Songs Introduced in Medical Skit—M.S.P.E. Have Lively Chorus—R.V.C. Present a Story of Woman's Chase After the Sterner Sex.

What will probably prove the feature of the Red and White Revue in the St. Denis Theatre on Friday and Saturday nights will be the combined orchestras which compose the Jazz Revue act, the last one of the evening on the bill. The three orchestras are, Adney's, Cloutier's and Crocker's, and are considered three of the best jazz orchestras in Montreal. An interesting feature of this combination is that on these two occasions the three orchestras will be before the public together for the first time. Judging from the esteem with which they are held and from their enviable records in the city, the orchestras will be welcomed as the best acting of the evening. Last year's Jazz Revue was one of the top-notchers of the line and this year's presentation augurs well to be even better than last year. This Jazz Revue is scheduled as the last act of the programme and will be a fitting climax to a night of wholesome entertainment.

At 8.15 sharp the programme will begin by an overture and immediately after the Commerce act will be presented. Commerce are offering this year a presentation that will delight the hearts of all who love Shakespearean plays, and it has been proven in the past that this means everybody. The act will introduce a new Hamlet—at least a new version of Shakespeare's "Prince of Denmark"—and certainly it can be said that the progeny of the Commerce mind were not to be as gloomy as the melancholy Dane.

The R.V.C. skit will depict the story of the eternal female as she has lived and trapped the male of the species all down through the ages. The artfulness of the cave-woman, the guiles practised by the beautiful Cleopatra, the cunning methods of the Elizabethan damsel will all be revealed before the eyes of the unsuspecting male and the act will terminate by showing the modern forms of procedure for capturing a husband.

The judicial aspirants will present a drama of the Great North West done in an up-to-date fashion. Royal Canadian Mounted Police will play as important a role in the act as they do in the "movie thrillers" and they will "get their man" on both Friday and Saturday nights. This gripping drama of the country Curwood made famous should be one of the features of the show for no doubt the dramatic ability of the budding lawyers will do it justice.

Bedroom scenes have always been a good field for comedy and the Science producers are going to step farther in presenting an act in which the scene consists of two bedrooms with a bathroom between; certainly an opportunity for clever comedy. Blake Wilson, in his specialty act, will follow the Science skit, but Blake is as silent as the ancient Sphinx and will not divulge so much as a hint as to the nature of his presentation. A miniature musical comedy introducing Crocker's new songs will be staged by the Medicine players in an act which centres around the strange dreams of a dope fiend. This act will be a combination of humour, songs and snappy music and bids fair to be an entertaining one.

Following this act the audience will have the pleasure of seeing the snappiest chorus in Montreal in a high class burlesque presentation. This act is one of the head-liners of the show and will undoubtedly prove a popular one with the audience. A mystery play which defies solution till the last line is spoken will be presented by the Arts undergrads. Moreover, the act is filled with such thrilling incidents as a pistol shot in the dark and shrieks piercing the night, in fact all and more that goes to make a melodrama which will make each individual hair of the audience stand on end. Following the Arts skit is the Jazz Revue, the best of the evening, which will ring down the final curtain of the Red and White Revue.

A bit of advice to the players follows: They are reminded that a dress rehearsal will take place in the St. Denis on Thursday but no make-up will be used. The actors are requested to present themselves promptly at the times which are recorded at the head of the Notice column. There are also asked that, while the show is in progress, all actors not participating while a skit is being presented, keep to their respective dressing rooms. There are about eighty-five members in the entire cast and it can be readily seen that in order to keep the wings free for entrances and exits, that the actors obey this request. The times for the rehearsal on Thursday and also the times for making up and beginning the acts are printed in the Notice column and all actors would do well to cut this out, and keep it for reference.

UNION REPORT GOOD REASON FOR OPTIMISM

Cafeteria Catering Outstanding Feature

DANCES AND TEAS

Smokers, Banquets and Many Other Activities Also Important Events

The Union has had a decidedly successful year as all who have heard the president's report at the semi-annual meeting of the Students' Society know. Three smokers, five dances, musical teas, banquets and meetings this session have made it a very busy centre. The catering side of the functions of the Union, however, has been most outstanding; it was three times as great as last year.

Of the smokers at the Union, the first was the big "Pop Rally" at the beginning of the session. The second was the Athletic smoker, held late in November, for the presentation of awards. The final smoker was the recent one, at which the candidates in the late undergraduate elections spoke. All three were decidedly successful, as the attendance at them evidences.

Four informal dances and one formal have been staged by the Union House Committee. Each was fairly well attended, and each carried itself financially.

From the statement of the Secretary of the Union regarding billiards, the following is quoted:

"Billiards have not been so popular as in previous years. Particularly was this the case during the first term. Two successful billiard and pool tournaments have been held, and, probably as a result of this, billiards and pool for January and February have been as well patronized as for the same period last year. One professional game proved very popular.

Regarding the old Union Library, this institution ceased to exist, when, owing to the supply of books being depleted, it was sold to the highest bidding book-seller.

The Tuck Shop has, unfortunately, not shown as good returns this year, but plans are under way which point to improvement next year.

Considerable repair work and many alterations have taken place in the Union. The executive offices, in the first place, have been remodelled to accommodate the Athletic Board. The billiard room has been repaired, while the dining room and the cafeteria have been remodelled and redecorated.

Particular attention should be given to the catering service of this year. It was three times as great as in previous sessions. This feature is becoming increasingly important, and it is the desire of the Union House Committee that the students' building be recognized as a standard place for banquets and smokers.

Musical Teas have been very important during this session, having been held weekly, and their success has been largely due to the various orchestras, which have so kindly given their services.

From a financial point of view the Union has done extremely well, while the Cafeteria has supplied excellent meals at very low prices. Much of the success of the Cafeteria has been due to Mr. Honegger, the cafeteria manager.

This year's officers of the Union are:

Packham, president; Little, vice-president; and Leach, secretary. Next year's officers are:
Ted Newton, president; N. Philpott, vice-president; Wright, secretary.

U. OF M. STUDENTS' ASSAULT-AT-ARMS

Greater Interest in Sport Is Shown by Montreal
College

The University of Montreal is staging a sports night at the Monument National next Tuesday, April 2nd. The affair is to take the form of an assault-at-arms, and should go a long way towards fostering athletics in this line at the east-end college.

In the past few years sports have been receiving more attention by the students of the University of Montreal, and they have entered into inter-collegiate circles. And, in the next year or so, the French-Canadian students may be participating in all branches of athletics, both major and minor, with the teams of McGill.

Tickets for the assault-at-arms next Tuesday may be purchased at Amchambault's and Lindsay's stores.

YEAR SHOWS PROGRESS IN R.V.C. EVENTS

New Women Students' Society Formed

DEBATE WON

Various Societies Complete
Successful Session

The session 1923-24 has been, perhaps, one of the most successful in the annals of R. V. C. Not only have the usual undergraduate and athletic activities been carried through with a splendid show of interest and competitive spirit, but several important problems demanding the attention and thought of R. V. C. Undergraduates have been satisfactorily settled.

Undergraduate Society

This society, the main student organization of the college, has enjoyed a year of great activity and success under the presidency of Miss Phyllis Murray. During the session, support was given by the society to three campaigns—Poppy Day, European Student Relief, and Crochy Hall Fund—while a the banquet was also held, the proceeds of which were divided between the S. C. A. and the Delta Sigma Society. The constitution of the newly-formed McGill Women Students' Society, membership in which is open to all women students at McGill, was approved and accepted by the Undergraduate Society, after its reading and discussion at a series of meetings. Towards the close of the session a Gymnastic Demonstration, one of the last activities of the Society, was held, proving a great success.

Athletic Association

This year, exceptional interest has been taken in athletics, and many sports have, in every case, been run off very promptly. This is due in great part to the splendid control and untiring efforts of the President, Miss Carol Robertson, and to the loyal support and energy of the athletic managers, the Misses Matheson, Pennington, E. Russell, and Grant.

Gratitude is due also to Miss Cartwright and her assistants for their excellent coaching in all branches of athletics.

The first athletic activity was the Tennis Tournament which was won by Miss C. Robertson. There was a large number of entries this year and the brand of tennis played was better than it has ever been before. In the inter-year tournament, played later, the Sophomores were victorious. On Sports Day, the Individual Championship went to Miss Regina Turley, and second year, winning the laurels, gained another point towards the Inter-Year Banner.

The third Women's Intercollegiate Basketball Meet was held in Kingston in the latter part of February, and though the R. V. C. team did not again succeed in winning the championship they nevertheless put up a very good fight, defeating Queens, and being beaten by Varsity by the narrow margin of 3 points. In city league basketball, R. V. C. defeated all opponents except the M. S. P. E. The inter-class championship was won by R. V. C. '24. In hockey, the season was decidedly successful. R. V. C. took second place in the league defeating the M. S. P. E. and losing to the Y. W. C. A. in the final game for the championship. The class hockey games were well contested. In this, as well as in basketball, the seniors proved their superiority, though the second year team showed up very well.

Delta Sigma Society

Among the many activities which the Delta Sigma Society has staged this year probably the most outstanding was the second Women's Intercollegiate Debate between McGill and Queens which took place at Kingston, R. V. C., which was ably represented on this occasion by Miss Massy-Bayly the president of the Delta Sigma Society, and Miss Jean Gurd, succeeded in winning the victory. Small silver cups were presented to the debaters at a meeting of the R. V. C. Undergraduate Society in recognition of their excellent work. Many very successful meetings have been held by the Society during the session, the programme including inter-class debates, impromptu speaking, and plays. The Public Speaking Contest which is to be held to-day will terminate the session's work.

Societe Francaise

The Societe Francaise has also thrived very well under the presidency of Miss Fielders. Besides holding inter-class debates, and plays, the Societe held a joint meeting with the Cercle Francais which took the form of a debate. The R. V. C. orators, Miss Massy-Bayly, Miss Servier and Miss Lyman, succeeded in convincing the judges that the girl who has a college education makes a better wife than the girl who has not this advantage. The programme of the Societe included in addition to the regular meetings several theatre parties, and an expedition to the Chateau de Ramazay, Mile Touron.

One of the first social events of the session was the annual reception held by the S. C. A. of R. V. C. to welcome the freshmen. "Stunt Night," which proved to be so popular before, was repeated this year with equal success and funds for the National Movement were thereby raised. A number of R. V. C. students, including Miss K. Dawson, president of the S. C. A., attended the convention at Indianapolis and brought back glowing reports of it which were given at a general meeting. The members of the society had the privilege of hearing an address on India by Mr. Mukerji, and visits from Miss Helen Nichol and Miss Gertrude Rutherford of Toronto were also greatly enjoyed.

Music Club

The R. V. C. Music Club, a new organization which was formed last year by Miss K. James for the purpose of fostering an interest in classical music, has developed into an important feature of college life under the leadership of Miss Gwion Fielders. The meetings have always been very enjoyable as well as instructive. Papers have been given on such composers as De Bussey, Palmgren, and Paderewski and selections from their works have been rendered. Folk songs formed the topic of one meeting, and even jazz was not overlooked in the comprehensive range of subjects dealt with. It is hoped that this Club will continue to exert an influence on R. V. C. students and to form a part of the undergraduate activities.

SENIOR BASKETBALL THIS SEASON

For a time this season it looked as though the McGill senior basketballers were going to finish all their important games without once breaking into the win column. Going down to defeat in the four encounters of their American tour, beaten by both Queens and Varsity in the Intercollegiate contests, the Red and White players were again overcome in the first game of their eastern invasion against St. John's Trojans. But the next night the men of McGill came back strong, they went into what was to be their final encounter of the season full of fight and by the fury of their opening attack piled up a lead which won them the game.

The university team went through the Intercollegiate schedule deprived of the services of their great captain and defenceman, Etro Amaron, who was injured in the game with West Point during the American tour at Christmas time. In the middle of the season George Hilton, another stellar Red and White guard dropped from the line-up suffering from a serious injury to his spine. Amaron has been elected Honorary President of the basketball club, while Hilton will be next year's manager, succeeding "Bozy" Hayes.

"Bozy" Mendelssohn, who is graduating this spring, became captain in Amaron's place. The little forward was going at a fast clip all season and was outstanding in the final games down in New Brunswick. Alongside him in the opening encounters was "Bones" Little and later Philpott, who proved an aggressive forward and a great basket-getter. The Red and White pivot-man was the famous "Bozo" Manson who has been elected as McGill's representative on the Intercollegiate Basketball Union. "Bozo" starred at center in practically all of McGill's games, most noticeably in the last game with Queens at the M.A.A.A. when the victory of the the play-off with Varsity in which Presbyterians gave them the right to they won the championship. Brown was the substitute center-man.

After the successive injuries to Amaron and Hilton the defensive back for the Red and White was left with Quackenbush and Blumenstein while Roucher came up from the Intermediates to prove a reliable sub. Stanly Quackenbush and Harry Blumenstein made a fast, hard-working pair of guards. Both are expected to be back next season, as indeed is the whole of the McGill squad with the exception of Mendelssohn, and the university's prospects are very bright for a successful year in 24-25 basketball. "Bozy" is going to be badly missed up forward but Coach Van Wagner has two men in Little and Philpott while there are some promising players on the intermediate squads.

From the Intermediate "A" squad in particular the seniors have depended for players all this season. Many of the men who went up made good in senior ranks.

McGill's four straight defeats on the American tour are no discredit when it is remembered what teams the Red and White outfit was up against, Penn., Army, Crescent A.C., City College, N.Y. In only one of these games, that with Army at West Point, were the McGill men decisively beaten.

The first Intercollegiate contest was played in the middle of January at the M.A.A.A. when Varsity triumphed over the McGill team, 32-25. Two weeks later the Red and White put up a great fight to even things in the return game at Toronto but were again turned back beaten by much the same score, 35-25.

Against the Tri-colour, McGill, fared no better, losing at Kingston 42-24, and in Montreal 42-24. The Red and White held their own with the Prosytherians for speed and even for combination, but could not compare with them when it came to shooting.

The seniors finished their season with an invasion into New Brunswick where they met the Trojans, best of the Maritimes. The first contest at St. John was the most keenly-contested ever seen in the eastern city. It was only in the last seconds of play that the basket was made which gave the victory to the Trojans. Next night the university turned the tables on the home team winning 34-27, and bringing a disastrous season to a brilliant close.

A standing account

But the longer it stands
The longer it runs.

CURTAIN!

This is my last appearance before you in these columns this year. But I wish to remind you that the Cafeteria will be kept running at least until the first of May. However, whether due to the pressure of studies and the spectre of examinations or because of the annual "Spring fancy", the night business has decreased during the past two weeks and unless this night patronage improves, I shall have to discontinue the service.

The Union Cafeteria

has been operated in the interests of the students and I thank you for your patronage and support. To those of you who are graduating, I wish every success when they leave McGill. To the others I wish the best of luck in their examinations and a hope that next Autumn they will return with renewed enthusiasm for their college and, incidentally, for their Cafeteria.
